All journals on J-STAGE are...

1. Peer-reviewed journals published by Japanese noncommercial societies, offices of which should be always located within Japan.
2. Journals should be published constantly.
3. Journals should accept papers contributed not only by society members but also from anyone outside as well.
4. The society should bear the cost of data (full text PDF, bibliography data etc.) production and monitors the quality of the uploaded data.

What is the merit?

The screenshot shows the J-STAGE website interface. At the top, the logo "J-STAGE" is displayed next to the text "Japan Science and Technology Information Aggregator, Electronic". There are language selection buttons for "English" and "Japanese". Below this, there are navigation links: "About J-STAGE", "JST Top Page", and "Journal@rchive". A "My J-STAGE" section includes a "MallAddress" field, a "Password" field, and a "Sign in" button. A search bar is present with "Author" and "Keyword" input fields, a "Search" button, and links for "ADVANCED" and "HELP". A status line indicates "Released 571 journals (265,514 articles), 123 proceedings, 10 reports & 42 JST reports by 2009/08/16". The main content area features a "Journals" section with a letter-based navigation bar (A-Z etc.) and buttons for "Proceedings", "Reports", "JST Reports", "Subject Areas", and "Organizations". A "Search Titles" field with a "Search" button and "HELP" link is also visible.
